Kindle Users Summary   March 8, 2011

Extras you want for Kindle: Open your internet browser on your computer, i.e.:
Firefox, Internet Explorer or whatever you use. Do a Google Search for Kindle Skins   Kindle Games   Kindle Books   etc.

Don't forget the Aa key, which is between the space bar and home keys, allows you to change the "text" size, change the spacing, turn on text to speech, and allows you to change the orientation of your screen. Use your five way cursor to navigate to the one you want and enter that choice to put it into effect. You must me on the page of a book for this to activate. It will not work from your home page! If you want to adjust the speed of the reader, or change the voice from a man to a woman, when the book is reading to you, choose the Aa key again. This will then give you the options to make further changes to the voice. Again, you must be on the page in a book to make these changes.

Next Users Group we will continue to answer questions, work on the basics and we will talk about how to archive items and also how to use the library to get books to your Kindle, IF I can get our resident Librarian to share that with us!

Thank you all for your interest in the Kindle Users Group. Remember our Computer Club Web page for past information: CCHSV.com from your web browser, scroll down to the bottom of the home page and the information is located there for you to click on, read and/or print. There is also a link there to email me if you would like. There is a lot of information about our club, classes we teach and many links to other areas of help. You will find an application on the web site as well if you would like to join. We would love to have you become a member if you are not already. See you in April.

To save on the life of your battery, put your Kindle to sleep when you are not reading, and be sure your Whispernet and/or Wi-Fi turned is OFF. Doing this will give you longer reading time and preserve the life of your battery.
